

Prospering Together

Over the next three months, people from all walks of life throughout Stephenson County will be participating in an effort to develop a common vision and goals for the future of our communities. The first step in this effort involves listening and learning. Our goal is to talk to as many people as possible about their communities – what they love about them already and what their dreams are for their future.

One part of this listening and learning phase will include meetings throughout the county. As a key government stakeholder, we would like to invite you to participate in this part of the process. In addition, we would ask that you invite some of your colleagues and staff to attend. Our hope is that we have a good cross-section of government employees in attendance, from elected officials to public works and public safety employees to administrative staff and managers.

Here is the schedule of meetings, which will be held throughout the county between July 26 and July 28. Please feel free to attend whichever meeting works best for you.
